

SOUTH BRUNSWICK HIGH SCHOOL

Dear Member of the Class of 2022,

When I think about this year and everything that we all have been through since March, one quote comes to mind: “Be like a flower, survive the rain but use it to grow.” Yet when I read this quote again and I want to be honest about it, it’s clearly much more than just rain...it’s like a big tornado! Though through the rain, tornados, and tropical storms, one thing that remains the same is that the Class of 2022 has persevered through it all and will continue to as we return to the 2020-2021 school year.

I know this year will begin not very different from where we left off in June and I wish I could tell you that things would be. Yet, as September approaches, I want you to remember how I know that these unprecedented times have called for unprecedented actions and the faculty and staff of South Brunswick High School are so proud of how you have all adapted to every obstacle that has been thrown your way during this pandemic.

As with every year, some things might be different in other aspects besides starting classes remotely. You may have an even clearer idea of who you are and where you see your future self. Some of this might have happened from a new-found commitment to your community through volunteering or you might have taken these past few months to do some self-reflection. No matter what you have done, whether it is big or small, just like the flower... you have grown from these new experiences in your life.

Some things might not have changed. Hard work and determination will still be necessary to achieve success. I continue to encourage you to take advantage of the many opportunities you will have to become a successful student. Get involved in all SBHS has to offer. We will be working on making many of our extracurricular activities and clubs remote in order to bring the enjoyment of high school right to your door.

As with all good things, they must eventually come to an end and the summer is one of them. The official first day of school will begin remotely on Tuesday, September 8th, 2020. The schedule for the remote learning period is as follows;

70 minute Classes
8:30 am - 9:00 am	Office Hours
On Fridays	VTN starts at 8:50 am
9:00 am - 10:10 am	1st Block
